KAROL & GUY MONROE
BRIDGE INSTRUCTORS

Karol and Guy Monroe are ACBL certified bridge instructors and directors and are actively involved in teaching, promoting bridge education, and mentoring new and advancing players.

Karol and Guy enjoy frequent travel and present bridge education programs for private groups and organizations throughout the United States. You will often find the Monroes on cruise ships worldwide hosting private groups and shipboard bridge education programs.

The Monroes retired from the Seattle area in 2000 and relocated to the scenic Oregon Coast. In her position of Education Liaison to the American Contract Bridge League (ACBL) for the geographical area of District 20 (Oregon, Southern Washington, Northern California, and Hawaii), Karol offers education programs, support and expertise to fellow bridge teachers. Karol has worked extensively with well known bridge educator and author, Audrey Grant, and is one of several teacher trainers in the Better Bridge organization.

Guy serves on the ACBL District 20 Board of Directors, teaches bridge classes, and trains directors for the ACBL. In the summer months, Guy is an Oregon State Parks naturalist. Guy and Karol compete in tournaments nationwide and have achieved the ACBL ranking of Gold Life Master.
